Team Wallet & Supply Transparency Notice

The wallet addresses listed in our whitepaper are official team and development wallets.

These wallets are fully controlled by the APE MODE core team and are dedicated exclusively to ecosystem development and long-term project growth.

Although blockchain explorers currently display the full 150 million token supply as circulating, this is due to the contract being deployed without an on-chain vesting function.

However, all team and development wallets remain locked by internal governance, and token selling/releases will strictly follow the distribution rules and schedules defined in the whitepaper.

We firmly assure our community and investors that:

- All team/dev wallets will operate in full alignment with the whitepaper-defined token sell/release plan
- No tokens will be sold/released outside the stated rules
- Every sell/release will be executed transparently and announced publicly

Our mission is to build APE MODE (APEM) into a top-tier ecosystem project, and maintaining trust, transparency, and long-term commitment is at the core of our strategy.
